

Clergy Compensation Guidelines 2021 Process for Establishing Compensation for Authorized Ministers (Ordained and Licensed) within the Heartland Conference, United Church of Christ

PREAMBLE

The Heartland Conference recommends these compensation guidelines for pastoral leaders. The Conference is aware that many congregations within the Conference may not be able to compensate their leaders according to these guidelines but hopes they prove useful to churches when addressing compensation matters. The primary objective for these guidelines is fair and just compensation for all authorized ministers.

These guidelines focus on the total cost of funding the position of pastor. They also include recommendations around specific parts of the package. Our recommendation is that you start with the minimum total needed to adequately fund the position, and then work with the best allocation of that total to meet the needs of your pastor.

Conversations on salary considerations need to be grounded in the following:

The Covenant Relationship: When a church calls a person to assume responsibility as pastor and teacher, it covenants with that person, with God, and with the wider church to care, to support and to grow in love and fairness. An annual review of what the Church is doing, and how it compensates those who are its workers, is an important part of the covenantal relationship, and should be seen in that context.

The Concept of Stewardship: We are the stewards of God's resources as they are present in our lives and in the life of the church. In seeking to best use the resources entrusted to its care, a church should be sensitive to its own mission statement, and aware of the needs of its staff members. Being good stewards implies that we are trying to act, as God wants us to. Being good stewards means struggling with issues like how God is calling us to compensate our employees, to care for our volunteers, and to give to the wider mission and ministry of the denomination.

The Concept of Justice: The concept of justice calls us to provide fair and adequate support for those who labor in the local church. This means providing adequate salaries, uninterrupted times for rest and relaxation, and providing for the staff's continued growth. Pastors are entitled to be treated equitably for payment of services, and their working conditions should be reviewed annually.

A. CASH SALARY

Fair and just compensation for ministerial leadership should be reviewed by all parties involved, and to this end, Clergy Compensation Guidelines of the Heartland Conference are provided. The CASH SALARY is the amount of actual dollars paid to the minister. Cash Salary DOES NOT include housing, utilities, allowances, benefits, Social Security, or reimbursable expenses. The Heartland Conference Clergy Compensation Guidelines are for all clergy serving in local congregations and institutions.

1. In 2021, a starting Cash Salary for a pastor with ministerial standing in the United Church of Christ is recommended at $34,292.

The Cash Salary of $34,292 is seen as the minimum for full-time pastors with advanced degrees. All churches are urged to strive toward meeting these guidelines by incrementally increasing income over the long term until guidelines are met. Ministers serving churches that pay less than the minimum Cash Salary, however, are encouraged to negotiate an arrangement with their church which will allow them to acquire supplemental income.

Not all locations of the Heartland Conference are the same economically. It is suggested that each congregation review the salaries of local school educators with a master's degree and administrators for equivalent education levels for fair salaries for your community. Those levels may be higher or lower and could be adjusted for that local congregation's setting.

2. Additional Factors to Consider

A. Experience Total Years of Experience in Ministry. Because of the value of experience, the Cash Salary should be increased using the table found in appendix A attached to this document:

B. Size of church, history and location

Because of history and location, additional resources and church budget, some churches are able to pay larger salaries. The following scale is to be used for adding to the starting figure:

Average Attendance at worship
75-125, add	$1,000-2,100
125-225, add	$2,100-3,150
225-350, add	$3,150-4,200
Over 350, add	$5,500+

C. Education

Adjustments may be made based on additional education and/or educational debt accumulation.

D. Part time

Salary and benefits for part time Authorized Ministers should be modified based on the percentage of full-time service worked. Part time ministers should receive the same benefits as those that are full time, including paid time off and sabbatical leave, with adjustments as appropriate for their part time service. (Full time hours are generally 45-55 hours per week. For more information, see the Call Agreement Workbook available for purchase from UCC Resources at www.ucc.org.)

It is important to be flexible and consider the needs of the church and the pastor. For instance, a pastor who is nearing retirement may desire more vacation weeks while a newer pastor may need more help with health insurance costs. Both parties should agree to discuss the package annually because the situation can and will change over time.

Part time Authorized Ministers must still earn a living wage and may need to work at another position in order to do so. Because a part time minister will work fewer hours, expectations and priorities must be identified and clearly defined. It is crucial that the agreed upon expectations be communicated to the congregation.

B. HOUSING

PARSONAGE PROVIDED – If the church provides a parsonage, full utility costs should be provided. You may also wish to explore tax benefits available in parsonage furnishings plus housing allowance features. Authorized ministers living in a parsonage are advised to designate a portion of their cash salary as a “furnishings allowance.” To the extent that it is used to pay for parsonage related expenses this allowance is not subject to income taxes. This allowance is normally not more than 10% of their salary.

EQUITY ALLOWANCE –A church that provides its pastor with a parsonage may want to consider establishing a housing equity fund that would be payable upon retirement or at some other time in the future. The fund would accumulate according to the specific agreement during the active service of the pastor and then be available in a variety of payment options

The Heartland Conference does not play a role in such plans other than suggesting use of pooled income of funds as the repository for Housing Equity Funds in the United Church Foundation.

HOUSING ALLOWANCE – If the church provides a housing allowance, the allowance should be the equivalent of the fair rental value of reasonable and appropriately furnished (including utilities) housing in that community or an amount equivalent to 30% of the cash salary. This is in addition to base salary.

For IRS purposes, the church board or council must pass a resolution at one of its last meetings of a year designating a housing allowance for each minister for the following year. This should be duly recorded in the official minutes of the meeting. The allowance is generally based on the minister’s estimate of actual housing expenses in the coming year and may include down payment, mortgage payments, property taxes, property insurance, utilities, furnishing and appliances, and maintenance.

C. REIMBURSED EXPENSES

PROFESSIONAL EXPENSES – Churches are expected to reimburse all professional expenses of all Authorized Ministers. This is to include participation in a Community of Practice Pastoral Excellence Group, the fee for which should be paid by the church.

AUTOMOBILE – Automobile Expense is a church business expense and should be compensated fully. Compensation may take one of several forms.

- a. Per mile allowance (as allowed by IRS guidelines)
- b. Provision of an automobile and payment of all expenses for church use.
(Note that annual lump sum payments are now considered taxable income by IRS. Churches should check current IRS law. Information about current automobile expenses can be found at www.irs.gov web site.)

BUSINESS – Association, Conference, and parish business. These expenses should be paid by the church in full.

MOVING EXPENSES – Moving expenses should be paid in full by the church calling any authorized minister. This is a church expense and shall not be considered as salary.

BACKGROUND CHECK – When a clergy prepares a profile, the clergy must pay for a background check before that profile can be circulated. When a pastor is called to a new setting, the local church is expected to pay the full cost of that background check to the newly called pastor.

D. BENEFITS

SOCIAL SECURITY OFFSET –It is recommended the church or employer contribute (“offset”) half the amount the minister must pay, through the Self Employment Tax, for Social Security and Medicare. As of 2020, the Self Employment Tax is 15.3%, therefore the church “offset” is 7.65% of the salary and housing allowance. (All employers are already required to make this contribution for their regular employees. See IRS Notice 1036 rev October 2020.)

HEALTH, VISION AND DENTAL INSURANCE – Churches are expected to pay the premium in full for the pastor, eligible spouse and any dependents. Congregations are encouraged to use the UCC Health Insurance plans from the Pension Boards or a comparable plan.

MEDICARE – At age 65, when a pastor goes on Medicare, the local church is encouraged to pick up the cost of a Medicare Supplement Plan, which can be covered by the sharply lower premium of health insurance.

LIFE INSURANCE AND DISABILITY INCOME BENEFIT PLAN – A UCC disability income and life insurance program should be provided. Premiums are set at 1.5% of Salary “Basis.” Salary basis equals the Cash Salary plus Housing Allowance, or 130% of Cash Salary if a parsonage is provided.

With the support of the Short-term Disability Plan, the church will be responsible only for the first month of full salary and housing and 40% of salary and housing for months two through six. The remainder of salary and housing will be covered by the short-term disability policy. Long-term disability coverage begins after six months, and the church has no further financial responsibility.

ANNUITY – Annuity should be paid at 14% of Cash Salary and the Housing amount to the UCC Pension Board. If a parsonage is provided, 130% of the total cash salary should be the basis upon which the annuity is paid. Additional contributions may be made if desired.

FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNT PLAN – Churches are encouraged to set up a Flexible Spending Account Plan either through the UCC Pension Boards or managed in the local church. After an initial cost of setting up the plan, there is no expense to the church but a considerable tax advantage for the pastor.

EDUCATIONAL MATERIALS AND CONTINUING EDUCATION – Churches are encouraged to provide time and financial assistance for study and continuing education for their pastor, with a minimum of a week annually (other than vacation). The annual budget line item is to be 1% of the annual Cash Salary plus Housing Allowance, at a minimum of $500 annually, to assist with the costs of continuing education and resources.

PARENTAL LEAVE – Parental leave with full salary and benefits up to three months shall be provided following the birth/adoption of a child.

COMPASSIONATE LEAVE – Allowance must be made for the pastor to be with their immediate family at times of special celebration such as weddings or graduations and at times of personal emergency or unusual family responsibility. Paid personal leaves would normally be limited to a period of 5-7 days per year, except where compassion dictates further extension. These days are not accruable.

SICK LEAVE – Sick leave may be granted to authorized ministers for personal illness or the illness of a dependent family member as defined by the local church governing board. It is recommended that one sick day for each month of the year can be accrued up to 30 days, with full salary, housing and benefits.

SABBATICAL LEAVE – Sabbatical leave for clergy for the purpose of spiritual and/or intellectual enrichment is possible after three years of full-time service within the current ministry setting. One month is earned after three years, or two months after four years, or a maximum of three months after five years. During the time of sabbatical all salary, housing and benefits are paid to the pastor. Attention needs to be given to the expense of the congregation and pastor, for pastoral coverage for the church during the sabbatical and the pastor's sabbatical expenses. It is suggested that churches escrow funds annually to provide support for sabbatical related expenses and explore available grant opportunities. Timing of subsequent sabbaticals should be measured by renewing the cycle of counting three, four or five years after completion of the first sabbatical.

VACATION – Vacation time should be a minimum of one month per year, including four Sundays, and an additional week for every five years served in that local church, with a maximum of six weeks per year.

DAYS OFF – On average a pastor works 45-55 hours per week. Congregations and pastors are encouraged to limit evenings (counseling, meetings) to three or less per week. Pastors are encouraged to take two full days off per week. Sunday is a workday for pastors.

ANNUAL HEALTH EXAM – Congregations in general and pastoral relations committees in particular are encouraged to have their pastor have an annual physical exam, which is covered by the UCC Health Plan.

LIABILITY INSURANCE – The UCC Insurance Board program covers the pastor for Sexual Misconduct Liability and Pastoral Counseling Liability insurance. If the local church does not participate in the Insurance Board program, comparable coverage is to be provided to the pastor.

COLLEGIAL TIME – Clergy retreats, ministerial meetings, support groups, mission trips, continuing education, church camp, and sabbatical leave are not to be construed as vacation time. Authorized ministers are expected to participate in the work of the wider church in the association, conference, and national settings, which is not vacation time.

WORKER'S COMPENSATION – Congregations are encouraged to cover their pastoral staff with Workers Compensation Insurance as they are required to do by state law for lay employees.

MULTIPLE STAFF AND SUPPORT STAFF PERSONNEL

All conditions described in this document pertaining to ordained senior ministers pertain equally to ordained associate, assistant ministers, licensed ministers and commissioned ministers. Appropriate compensation may vary due to the scope of their responsibilities, ministerial training and experience. No authorized minister should be expected to serve for less than the minimum Conference-recommended salary.

Program and office support staff should receive fair and equitable salaries and benefits in accordance with their responsibilities, training, and experience.

PERSONNEL POLICY

Every church should have a personnel policy for all employees of the congregation. The Heartland Conference office can supply your church with a sample policy for a congregation if needed.

BEGINNING THE NEW YEAR

It is recommended that at the beginning of each new year with the governing board of your church and pastoral relations committee, The Authorized Minister's Code be read aloud. It is further recommended The Local Church in Relation to its Pastor also be read aloud. (These documents are attached to this document.) Reading these documents will demonstrate the seriousness of this covenant commitment between the pastor and the congregation, and the congregation and the pastor. For some this will be new information. For others, this will be a reminder of the covenant commitment made when your pastor was called to serve your local church.

Base Salary – recommended increase for 2021:

The recommended Cash Salary for 2021 is an increase of 0.7% from 2021 because the Consumer Price Index in the Midwest Region increased by that amount from July 2019 to July 2020.

We will not discriminate against any person, group or organization on the basis of race, gender, age, sexual orientation, faith, nationality, ethnicity, marital status, or physical, mental, or emotional disability.
- We recognize that we have called our pastor as the pastoral leader of this local church, and we will not invite other pastors to provide pastoral services within this church or to members of this church without our pastor's consent.
- We recognize and respect that our pastor receives confidential and privileged communication.

- We will establish policies regarding baptism, communion, marriages, funerals, and the use of church facilities and personnel in consultation with
- our pastor and will honor them in our life as a local church.

THE LOCAL CHURCH IN RELATION TO ITS PASTOR

Partners in Authorizing Ministry

- We respect the privacy of the pastor's family and the family's right to time together without interruption.
- We do not expect the pastor's family to assume roles of leadership or levels of involvement beyond the family's wishes.
- We recognize that conflict or tension between our pastor and the local church can arise. Should divisive tensions threaten our life together, we will seek the counsel of the Conference or Association Minister or the Association Committee on the Ministry.

COMMITMENTS IN MINISTRY

- We recognize the many and diverse expectations we have of our pastor, and we will offer our support through prayer, encouragement, and partnership in the ministry of this church.
- We recognize our responsibility to provide our pastor with adequate compensation and fringe benefits. We will make these decisions in consultation with our pastor and in light of the compensation guidelines established by our Conference.
- We will provide for an annual review of compensation that considers effectiveness, cost of living, ministerial competence, and years of service.
- We recognize our pastor's need for physical and spiritual renewal, and we will provide adequate time and resources for study, devotion, leisure, vacation, and sabbatical.
- Relying on the grace of God, we will lead lives worthy of the calling to which we have been called.
